Psychosomaticidiopathicreligiobhysteriosis

Although you look cynical I tell you it's clinically
Proven that most of my patients
Will walk home healed once I have revealed
The complexities of the mind's machinations.

There are ids, there are egos and untamed libidos
Or unconscious urges instead.
There's schizoids and paranoids and one thing you can't avoid
Is no-one's quite right in the head.

Well as an eminent shrink I got to think
Of some treatments to help all these freaks
With lots of cocaine whizzing round in my brain
I was able to solve it in weeks.

You see, if you look at history it's always the mystery
And the usage of special terminology
That keeps those in the know above those down below
About this I make no apology (survival of the fittest, you know!)

So I made up some words – they were long and absurd –
I kept going `til I grew massive calluses
Then, `cause I'm that sort of bloke, in a great master stroke
I put the anal in psychoanalysis.

So by using this system of linguistic wisdom
I can give you this clear diagnosis:
You've got psychosomaticidiopathic-religiohysteriosis!
